

YOUR AGENCY SUCKS.

If you can't check all of these boxes, it might be time for a change! — seven things a real management agency does for you.

☐ #1 MANAGEMENT

A dedicated manager who actually knows your account, your goals and your numbers — not a random sending you a generic check-in once a week.

☐ #2 TRAFFIC

Your agency actively drives new fans to your page through proven, tailored strategies. Fewer than 5 good accounts being run for you? Red flag.

☐ #3 CHATTING

Your chatters sound native and mirror your voice so well that subs can't tell. If they never told you what a chatting ratio is, they're not tracking it.

☐ #4 COMMUNICATION

Your agency responds within minutes, not hours. You never chase them for updates or wonder what's going on with your own account.

☐ #5 RELIABILITY

Your income grows predictably month over month. If it drops or stagnates and they blame "the algorithm" — they don't have a system.

☐ #6 FAIRNESS

They treat you as a partner, not a product. Fair contract, transparent split, and you can leave anytime. If you can't check this box — you already know.

☐ #7 EARNINGS

Your earnings grow significantly every month with a clear roadmap. If your agency can't show you exactly how you'll grow in the next 90 days, they're guessing and hoping for the best.
